FIFTEEN CENTS

A Special Dispensation for the Deacon?

The reader is invited to scan the map shown herewith. It is a copy of one given to the Wilmington Public Library by the Town Crier, and which was made in 1856.

Shown on the map are a number of interesting items - and two that never existed. A road had been proposed, to go from Woburn Street to Lowell Street across the Maple Meadow Brook. That road starts (as far as the map is concerned) between the names of J. Buck and N. Buck, and after crossing the brook almost gets into a collision with the name of J.A. Ames, who was the old station master, postmaster, and owner of what was then and is now known as Ames Store, where newspapers can be bought, even today.

There is another fictitious road too, the one that goes down to the Town Asylum, better known in Wilmington as the Poor Farm. There wasn't any Planning Board, but there was always someone proposing roads, or so it seems.

The Boston & Lowell Railroad is shown going up toward Lowell from the Woburn line. Today it is the Boston & Maine. Way over on the left is a heavy black mark - that was the town bound with Burlington and still is - the mark results from the colored marks made on the old map, and it is to be regretted.

But that heavy mark - it cuts through something which is today known as Weeping Hill. At the level of the Woburn line one may see the outline of the old mill pond in Burlington. One may also see the name of Cummings Tannery, where Eddy Rooney's father worked, back about 1900. J. Bell, that was the Deacon Joseph Bell, and the farm is still known as the Bell Farm. It stands across from Hillside Way, which didn't then exist.

Also down there may be seen J. Tyler and B. Foster. There will be more on that later.

Monday night it was finally announced that there seems to be an agreement about the diversion of the waters from Weeping Hill, said agreement being between the Wilmington and Burlington selectmen.

There was no agreement about costs. That is to come later. This is because the engineers who designed Burlington Dam say the waters of Weeping Hill come from rainfall, and not from the pond. The pond, the gentlemen allege, is just incidental.

And more than just a few engineers back up that firm. It seems that an engineer cannot make a mistake - and he has a stamp which says so. Wilmington engineers who have never visited Weeping Hill, nor talked with the people who live there, have invited the writer to go down and take a look at the hill with them.

This where the Deacon comes in, and Mr. Tyler too.

Mr. Tyler must have been a webbed footed fellow, to judge by his homestead. It is pretty near the garden of Frank Holland today - the asparagus garden that was flooded out last spring. Indeed, foundation stones can still be seen, nearby.

The Deacon was Benjamin Foster. He lived on the other side of Chestnut Street, probably in the old farmhouse that stood across the street from Walter Rooney's home - possibly in the farmhouse that stood near the present lawn of the Mancini family.

Deacon Benjamin Foster lived a long life, as a Wilmington farmer, growing hops and crops.

His fields could not have been wet, as they are today. Even if there was more rain on Weeping Hill than elsewhere, the Deacon must have had dry fields, relatively speaking.

Either that, or perhaps he had a Special Dispensation from the Lord.

Nurses Needed Town Wide Bloodmobile

The Bloodmobile will be coming to Wilmington in May. Registered nurses, and LPN's are needed, on a volunteer status. Anna Low of Woburn Street and Barbara Dayton of Burlington Avenue, American Red Cross representatives are sponsoring Orientation Classes for the volunteer nurses.

The classes are to be held at the Wilmington Public Library on April 18th from 7 to 10:30 pm. The 18th happens to be a Thursday. The two ladies have already mailed letters to 48 nurses in Wilmington. If others are interested they may call either of the ladies.

A Red Cross instructor will be present, and certificates are to be awarded nurses who qualify.

Water Rate goes up on May 1

The Wilmington Water Rate changes will increase 30%, across the board, on May first. The Board of Water Commissioners, by unanimous vote on March 14th, have so decided. The increase will retain the same step schedule as in the present rates.

Redevelopment Authority and others Selectmen hold Marathon executive session

It was a Marathon executive session for the Board of Selectmen Monday night, starting just before 9:30 pm and not stopping until after 1 am. "We had a lot of work to catch up on," was the way that chairman, Jimmy Miceli expressed it.

Over a quarter of the session seemed to be in discussing the land of the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority, down off Eames Street. The project, sponsored by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, is now receiving bids for 29 acres of land. Chairman Ray McNamara spent almost forty minutes with the selectmen in executive session, and Town Counsel Alan Altman and Principal Assessor Anthony Krzeminski spent twenty-five minutes. It is known that bids have been received for the land.

In the hour spent in open session (the meeting started late because of the Student Government banquet) the Selectmen appointed jurors, took up other appointments, and had a long session with Madelyn McKie, Wilmington MAPC representative about the possible future of the Woburn Street Bypass.

Other business
Chairman Miceli said that he would set up a meeting with the Planning Board, to discuss the many questions involved.
Dick Allard of Kelly Road was drawn to be a juror, in Lowell, starting on May 6th, and drawn for jurors in Cambridge were Eddie Johanan of Burlington Ave., Doris Currier of Thurston Ave., and Charles Beardsley of Lawrence Street.

A public hearing was held for Mr. Barboza, on an Official Map question, relative to his building a home on a street parallel to Taft Road, called Lincoln Street. The permit was granted, subject to conditions. One of them being that a building now on the lot be torn down in six months.
Ed Nash of 620 Woburn Street, and Lillian Perdicaro of High Street were named to the Wilmington Council on Aging.

Mr. Miceli announced that in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, Clean-Up Week in Wilmington will be held as usual, with April 27th being set aside for trucks and crews to clean up roadsides. There will be an organizational meeting in the Public Library on April 16th.
Bruce MacDonald of Chestnut Street was reappointed to the Board of Appeals, as was Peter Enos of Hillside Way as an Associate Member. Parker Hodgdon of Harris Street, a former member, was reappointed to be a full member. George Robertie, who has been serving as an Associate has now been elevated to full member.
A newcomer to the board was in the appointment of Louis Brownay of Boutwell Street. He was nominated by Danny Gillis.
Robert Michelson was nominated for reappointment to the Permanent Building Committee. Mr. Banda making the nomination and Mr. Gillis seconding. A member of the LWV was present to watch.
George Boylen then wanted to set up a meeting with the Permanent Building Committee, before the vote, and Jim Banda agreed, saying that there were some questions on Environmental Impact, relative to the proposed High School off Salem Street. Mr. Banda then withdrew the nomination.

There will be an

'Taint So!

"'Taint So!" says Fred Burdett of the Rumford Historical Association. "Our beloved Baldwin Apple Monument has not been stolen!"

He is referring to an article in a Boston newspaper last Friday saying the monument had been stolen, from its Chestnut Street park, and that the Wilmington police were looking for it.

C. Fred Burdett, who is also the secretary of the Woburn Historical Commission told the Town Crier that he had been in touch with Walter Kohler of West Street, a member of the Wilmington Historical Commission, regarding the monument.

The Rumford Historical Association has taken down the monument, and it is in Woburn, being refurbished and cleaned, at the Roessler Monument Plant. Corrections will also be made, and the monument will be re-erected.

The idea is to have it at its best appearance for the nation's Bicentennial.

The monument, one of two "apple" monuments in the United States, was erected on ground given to the Rumford Historical Society under the will of Leonard Thompson. The monument was erected in 1890, and marks (by directions) the site of the original tree of the Baldwin Apple.

An additional 13,458 square feet of ground was purchased in 1899 by the Association, to make a small park. The land was purchased from the late B.G. Snowman, who at that time lived in the William Butters House, nearby.

It is planned to re-erect the monument in about a month, with a new base, deep in the ground, and concrete poured around the foot of the monument, to deter would-be vandals.

Planning Board to attend study of Ipswich River next Tuesday

There is to be no meeting of the Wilmington Planning Board next Tuesday. Instead the members are to attend a public workshop in Wenham (Gordon College, Wenn Hall), under the sponsorship of the Southeastern New England Study of the New England River Basins Commission (SENE). The meeting begins at 7:30 pm and the Planning Board members plan to leave Wilmington Town Hall at 6:45 pm, travelling in probably two cars.

The meeting is open to the public, and will discuss many of the proposed Ipswich River facilities. Should there be a large regional reservoir, or three smaller ones? Would the towns on the Ipswich rather limit their growth, relative to water supply, or would they prefer to be a part of the MDC water supply system?

The study, of which Robert Kavinsky is manager, is a $3.5 million state and federal effort, and the Wenham Workshop is the second such session. The choices preferred by residents of the Ipswich River area will be considered, as a part of SENE's final recommended program.

Other items are to be discussed - protecting wetlands, federal funds for purchasing wetlands, proposals on new legislation for a basin regulatory agency, proposals on water treatment plants, of which two are proposed on the upper Ipswich.

Chamber of Commerce re-elects Bernard Brady

The Board of Directors of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce unanimously re-elected Bernard Brady to serve an unprecedented third term as president of the chamber.

Mr. Brady, an executive at Sweetheart Plastics, lives at Roberts Road. He is married to the former Helen Reynolds of Woburn Street.

Elected vice president was Ed Stupack of Avco, and Bennett Bedell, of Bedell Brothers Insurance Agency was re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Barbara Collins of Suncrest Avenue was re-elected executive secretary to the Board of Directors.

JOINT MEETING. President Dick Kenna of the Wilmington Kiwanis photographed at the podium, Monday evening, in a joint meeting of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary in Shrewsbury, Mass. It was the third annual joint meeting, and Mr. Kenna presided.

Dentist SPEAKS

By David

Ever hear of tooth grinding? It turns out that this is not a technical procedure performed by your dentist, but an unconscious, although damaging habit among many people.

Believe it or not, breaking the habit is both difficult, and frustrating.

Now, at the Walter Reed Medical Center, tooth grinders, were instructed to clench the jaw as hard as possible for five seconds, then relax the jaw for the same amount of time, then repeat the procedure five times and to continue the exercise six times a day for two weeks. This seemed to help many break the habit.

Just call - that's all - and Silver Lake Pharmacy, 33 Main St., Wilmington will do all the rest. Rely on our competent staff to give you prompt, courteous service at all times. For all your surgical and convalescent needs always rely on Silver Lake. Free prescription delivery. Phone 658-4617.

KIWANIS SPEECH SCREENING

Under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington, the 15th annual Pre-School Speech and Language Screening will be conducted at the Wilmington High School on April 30, May 1, and 2.

Wilmington parents who feel their child may have a speech or language problem may have the youngster evaluated by professionals. Karen Grossman and Loretta Green, speech pathologists for the Wilmington Public Schools, and Kirby Greene, audiologist, will examine four and five year old children. It is through this screening procedure that the Kiwanis Club offers Wilmington parents an invaluable opportunity to have their pre-school child's ability to communicate assessed by professionals. This increased parental awareness of normal development and communication ability and helps them understand and cope with developmental delays in speech or language acquisition. Parents in Wilmington may take advantage of this free community service by referring to their child's kindergarten or first grade registration packet. In addition to the form enclosed in the packet, a pre-registration form for speech and language screening will be printed in the Town Crier on April 11, 1974.

This service has been made possible as one of the charitable programs of the Kiwanis Club. Wives of Kiwanis members assist the professional team at the High School.

UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST CHURCH OF READING

At the Unitarian Universalist Church of Reading, the Rev. Glyn Preece will be the guest speaker at the 10:30 am Morning service on Sunday. The Women's Alliance will hold a bake sale during the Coffee Hour in Community Hall immediately following the service. Church school and baby sitting are available.

HOME OWNERS CORNER

The most common way to prevent heat loss in any room in your home is to place the heating outlets directly below windows. This keeps the glass from getting excessively cold, and prevents drafts. When a room has large glass areas, however, it is often wise to double glaze, with special insulating glass, or with storm windows. In summer, if direct sun strikes the glass, the interior temperature will be quite warm. Natural shade is the best energy saving answer to this problem.

Sweetest Home Country Center, 415 Main St., Wilmington, also sells a complete line of lumber and building materials. Our personnel have the knowledge to assist you with any do-it-yourself problems in and around the house as well as in choosing the supplies you require for completing the job. Lumber includes the hardwoods - walnut, cherry, oak and birch. Hours: 8 am to 5 pm daily.

Helpful Hint: For a small close-up view of the outdoors, use a vertical rather than a wide window.

July Tax Rate Might Drop

It is too early to make a statement on the probable tax rate in Wilmington on July one, but there seems to be a good chance that there will be a drop, compared to the 1973 tax rate. There are at least two factors that are not fully known at this time.

One of those is the valuation of property, real and personal, in Wilmington on July one. Those figures cannot be expected for a couple of months. The other is a pending matter in the Legislature, (Senate 723), which could be an additional amount of windfall money for the cities and towns. $ 723, filed by the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation, Inc. would require two payments, in June and December, instead of once a year, of money the state receives from the gas tax and lottery distributions.

The "fiscal 1975" Cherry Sheet, released last Friday by the state, did not carry those sums, and the MFT bill seeks to put those sums on a current basis, in the Cherry Sheet.

Wilmington received good news in its Cherry Sheet, which is the recapitulation of accounts between town and state. The amount of money the town is to receive has increased: $994,991.90. Everything else being equal, this would mean a drop of something over $3 in the tax rate.

As things were at the end of the Town Meeting in March, the voters had exceeded the estimates of the Wilmington Finance Committee enough to increase the tax rate $2.

Combining that increase with the decrease promised by the Cherry Sheet, and the possibilities of increased valuation and the MFT bill, Wilmington might have a $2 drop in the tax rate in July.

CORNERSTONE COFFEE GROUP

The Cornerstone Group, (Coffee House) were welcomed to the Bible Speaks School, in South Berwick, Maine last weekend, finally arriving at 8:30 pm Friday to a joyful welcome. There wasn't much sleep to be had, a lot of heavy discussion, and bed finally at 1:30 am. Up again at 5 am for a mountain top sunrise service.

The rest of the day was spent in visitation and study and prayer, leaving home at 4:30 pm Saturday. The United States has issued a decree for a day of penance and prayer on April 30th and the Coffee House, is planning to involve as many as possible in this effort. More is to be said about this.

A group with a "loud" message is due at the Coffee House tomorrow evening. They come from Brighton, and it is to be believed they will be playing to a full house in the Masonic Hall.

Everything is free, and the session begins at 8 pm. The High School crowd is beginning to note the time, and to enjoy Friday night at the Coffee House.

Mrs Robert M Murphy

On Saturday afternoon, March 30th, Lani Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bassett of Raymond, Mississippi, became the bride of Robert W. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Murphy, formerly of Wilmington, now of Clearwater, Florida.

The 2:30 ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gerald Morgan of St. Paul Presbyterian Church and Father George Broussard, St. Peter Catholic Co-Cathedral.

Decorative foliage trees and English Ivy formed the background for the wedding ceremony. Flanking the focal point were two matching spiral candelabras holding white tapers. A brass arch candelabra and Prie-dieu formed the altar from which the ceremony was held.

Mrs. Agnes Hinken who also played the organ for the bride's maternal grandmother's wedding presided at the organ.

Fifty in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a princess styled gown of white Point d'esprit lace over silk peau de soie. Clipped lace formed the collar and outlined the sheer net yoke of the bodice.

Tiny covered buttons fastened the long fitted sleeves. The princess lines of the lace dress widened into a billowy skirt and chapel train over layers of netting. The hem adorned at intervals with lace roses featured a flounce of pleated satin organza.

The chapel length silk illusion veil was attached to a Juliet caplet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a classic cascading bouquet of white ruffled carnations, daisies, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy centered with a white orchid. The bouquet was enhanced with seed pearls, chiffon butterflies and satin ribbon.

Miss Carole Bradley, of Rosemark, Tennessee, a close friend of the bride served as maid of honor, while Mrs. Ronnie Madden of Jackson, Mississippi, also a close friend of the bride, Miss Linda Murphy and Miss Patty Murphy, sisters of the groom of Clearwater, Florida and Miss Debbie Rainey, a close friend of the bride of Memphis, Tennessee acted as bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical floor length dresses of flower washed organza in tones of blue, gold and violet over ivory background. The bodice featured a scoop neckline and long full sleeves. A bias band of self fabric banded the waist of the gathered skirt and a deep flounce formed the hemline. Each attendant wore a fluted brim white straw hat encircled with multi-colored braided ribbons of blue, yellow, violet, green and white, which ended in love-knot tied streamers. They carried Williamsburg Noesgays of blue iris, purple statice, white daisies and baby's breath with streamers of ribbon the color of the ribbon on their hats. Miniature butterflies accented the spring colors of the bouquets.

John Murphy of Clearwater, Florida served his brother as best man while ushering duties were in charge of Mike Large, and Tony Dies of Clearwater, Florida, close friends of the groom.

Serving as groomsmen were: Bobby and David Bassett of Jackson, Mississippi, brothers of the groom; Joey Murphy of Clearwater, Florida, also a brother of the groom and Bobby Walley of Jackson, Mississippi, a close friend of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Brookwood Country Club where the bride's table was centered with a silver candelabra holding spring flowers in shades of blue and lavender with white daisies.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bassett chose a formal gown of orchid silk chiffon. The empire styled sleeveless bodice featured a V-shaped sheer yoke and soft folds of chiffon enhanced the shoulders. She wore a cymbidium orchid to match her gown.

The mother of the groom was attired in a formal gown of aqua silk designed with a V neckline, long fitted sleeves and a straight skirt. She also wore cymbidium orchids to match her dress.

The bride's grandmother was attired in a turquoise matte jersey gown accentuated with iridescent beading at the waistline. The groom's grandmother chose a blue print organza formal gown.

Assisting at the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Godfrey, Miss Cheryl Dennis, Miss Lee Ann Hollingworth, Miss Karen Daylor, Miss Gille Godfrey, Mrs. Dan Armstrong, Mrs. Carlton Salk, Mrs. David McCracken and Mrs. David McCracken, II.

For traveling the new Mrs. Murphy chose a black and gold print dress with matching jacket and accessories. She wore an orchid from her bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside in Jacksonville, Florida, where the groom is stationed with the US Navy.

The parents of the groom entertained the wedding party with the rehearsal dinner at the Patis Club on the eve of the wedding and the bridesmaids' brunch was given by Miss Beth Barber and Miss Donna Norman at the Barber home on the day of the wedding.

Wilton Drive extension still undecided

The proposed extension of Wilton Drive, so as to allow for a house lot at the end of the drive has not yet passed the Planning Board.

It was discussed, in a small degree, Tuesday evening. The board noted that the engineering firm which had appeared with the plans had not returned. The firm had been asked to widen the drain easements, to Lubbers Brook, to thirty feet instead of twenty.

A further point, by Bill MacKinnon, was that the end of the plan "had not been tied off right" meaning that, apparently, Mr. MacKinnon felt that the proposed lots had not been properly closed off.

The Planning Board, Tuesday night, approved of the proposed plan for Elmwood Village, by the Jackson Brothers, in which a road was being changed, because of deep water. The modification was approved, and will be signed after 30 days.

The Planning Board endorsed the idea of a joint meeting with the Selectmen. The Board has a number of subjects it wishes to discuss.

As expressed by Bill MacKinnon, the board wishes to discuss the Route 129 By-Pass "Let's get some pressure," and the South Industrial Area Study.

Mr. MacKinnon also wants an opinion on a Sign By-Law.

WILMINGTON YOUTH HOCKEY

Intertown action

Pee Wee B's top Pops

On Saturday the B's closed out their season with a father-son game.

The Pops started out with a real bang as Mr. Robinson took a pretty hard check. Mr. Donnelly (Smiley) and Mr. Palmer made fantastic one-handed saves as they kept up their defensive plays to no avail as the B's romped all over the Pops.

Leaders in the Sin Bin: Mr. Beaudrea (sitting on ice resting), Mr. Foley (Loss of sight, couldn't find glasses on ice), Mr. Richter (wrestling with defenseman and kissing the ref), Mr. Beatrice (looking well in his new hairstyle) drew penalties for holding.

Mr. Laliberte came fully equipped, including extra equipment called (we think) a sit-pad (which was needed). Mr. Greenberg scored only Pops goal on a very suspicious play from the opening face off.

Leading scorers for the B's were Rich Robinson (two), Dennis Foley (one), Jim Burns (one). Goalies—Matt DePasquale and Rick Ballou were very outstanding for the B's as both played net at the same time, while Rick Gunn did a fantastic job for the Pops. Speaking of fantastic, the officiating was done by Leggs (Pat) Greenberg and Hot Lips (Barbara) Gunn.

The hustle and laughter of both teams made it all worthwhile.

Wilmington LWV has Chapter 744 questions

The members of the Wilmington Planning Board were asked questions Tuesday night, on the Low and Moderate Income Housing law of Massachusetts, by two ladies from the League of Women Voters.

Donna McLaughlin of Christine Drive and Elizabeth Anderson of Lowell Street are making a study of the subject, which is more familiarly called "Chapter 774" (of the Acts of 1969). The two ladies noted that there may soon be an increase in federal funds in Massachusetts for construction of such housing.

There were nine questions. There were no answers that could have been defined as being "from the Planning Board" with exception of Number 5 which was answered by acting chairman, Bob Leahy. Mr. Leahy told the ladies that the Planning Board had presented Planned Unit Development (PUD) zoning to the Town Meeting, and had been turned down decisively.

1. Do you think Wilmington has local restrictions that hamper the construction of low and moderate income housing?

2. Under Chapter 774 how is low and moderate income housing defined?

3. Have any requests been made for construction of more low and moderate income housing?

4. In what ways is this board preparing for possible state intervention in relation to Chapter 774?

5. Our Master Plan suggested zoning for Planned Unit Development.

ment. Are there any present plans for implementing this suggestion?

6. What are the ramifications of this law if Wilmington is not prepared to handle its application?

7. How might the fact that Wilmington is on the 138 industrial belt for potential industrial development until 1990 affect Wilmington housing needs?

8. How can citizen participation be of value to you in preparing for Chapter 774?

9. Do you think Wilmington could benefit from the turnkey program?

(The turnkey program is a city development of recent years, reminiscent of the old Homestead Law of the U.S., in which families are given abandoned homes, to fix up and live in.)

WILMINGTON WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS APRIL 18

PACK 83 - SKITS

The March meeting of Pack 83, Wilmington was held in Villanova Hall on Thursday, March 28th.

Following the opening ceremony, which was conducted by the Webelos Den, Cubmaster Ray Hosmer made the following presentations:

Bobcat badges: Gregory Cullen and John Elliott; Wolf badge and gold arrow: Scott Jenkins; Wolf silver arrows: David Hosmer, Francis Jason, Edward Long, Brian Ouellette (three) and Daniel Ugolini.

Bear gold arrow: Michael Cullen; Bear silver arrow: Kenneth Smith; Webelos: Engineer and outdoorsman: Donald Long; Aquanaut and craftsman: Michael Cassidy; showman, sportsman and travelers: Donald Phillips; artist, engineer, forester and showman: Daniel Wandell. Daniel Wandell also received the arrow of lights and was welcomed into the Boy Scouts by Scoutmaster John Virtus.

Cubmaster Hosmer stressed again the importance of the Cub's parents participation at the monthly meetings.

The theme for the evening was skill night - Den 4 (dressed as Indians) told a story in sign language while a narrator kept the audience informed on the actual happening.

The Webelos Den gave a humorous "Alphabet" using the Sesame Street Muppets. Den 1 won the plaque for best attendance and performed the closing ceremonies.

MRS. O'BRIEN MRS. CRAM TO CHAIR WILMINGTON BEAUTIFICATION COMM.

Mrs. George O'Brien of Harris Street and Mrs. Milton Cram of Lawrence Street have been elected co-chairmen of the newly-formed Wilmington Beautification Committee.

The group's first meeting was held on April 3 at the home of Mrs. William Burke, 1 Harris St.

Assisting Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Cram will be Mrs. William Burke who was named secretary; Mrs. Gordon Siteman who will serve as treasurer and Mrs. Raleigh Nelson who will act as press correspondent.

The committee has scheduled a meeting with Bernard Brady, president of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to discuss plans for a clean-up campaign later in April.

Robert Palmer, highway superintendent has asked the committee to review a plan for location of benches which are now being installed on the common. Now that the common is taking on a new look, it is hoped this will be the beginning of a town-wide program in which everyone will share.

Regular meetings of the Beautification Committee will be held on the first Wednesday of each month at which time consideration will be given to suggestions, from interested citizens who are concerned with the appearance of the town.
